B&D Work Platforms are designed and engineered to decrease set-up times and increase production in a variety of environments. These platforms are being used for to secure personnel and equipment for shop maintenance to more extreme and demanding environments like supporting diamond drill workstations. With these platforms your operation can virtually eliminate the need for hammers, cribbing, rigging and portable industrial scaffolding. Clients are boasting savings of up to five days for just the building of the appropriate support before they can begin their desired application.

The B&D Platforms come with collapsible stairs and self-adjusting hand railing. Made from durable, rust resistant aluminum and appropriate treading, you can be assured that your workers are able to safely ascend and descend the platform decks throughout their shift.

In addition, to replacing complex scaffolding the B&D Platforms are built with incredible maneuverability in tight spaces with a 360 degree turning radius. The platforms all come with outrigger style castors and you can select rotator or non-rotator castors by simply using the adjustable pins.

You can choose from two styles: Scissorlift (variable height) or a Stationary (pre-defined height). The B&D Platforms come in a variety of weight capacities so you can choose the model most suited to your operation.
